

URUGUAY'S ROYAL GREETING TO ROOT

Constitution in Connection With Visit of Secretary. A Notable Event.

ENTHUSIASM WAS VERY GREAT

Rent by Cries of "Long Live Great Republic of the North."

(By Associated Press.)
NTVIDEO, August 10.—Secretary arrived here to-day on the cruiser Estacion. Never perhaps in the history of Uruguay a republic has been more visibly manifested than in the really remarkable demonstrations after noon on the part of all classes in connection with the visit of the American statesman to this picturesque capital.

Arrival of the cruiser with the distinguished travelers stationed prominently on the upper deck was the culmination of the enthusiasm of the crowds. Cries of "Long Live Secretary Root," "Long Live President Roosevelt," and "Long live the great republic of the North" rent the air. These were repeated when the steamer Triton went alongside the Charleston for the purpose of enabling the committee, composed of several leading residents of this city and a number of ladies, to board the cruiser and tender the first welcome to the visitors. After this ceremony the committee and Mr. Root's party boarded the steamer Inglaterra, whence the landing was made at 2 o'clock.

As soon as Mr. Root was on shore Dr. Jerome, the minister of foreign affairs, delivered a speech of welcome, to which Mr. Root made a brief reply. As the visitors drove away, accompanied by Mr. Root's party, the splendid residence in the heart of the city which had been previously prepared for them, the scene of enthusiasm was impressive and stirring. Mrs. Root and Miss Root shared the heartiness of the ovation accorded the American Secretary of State. This afternoon there was a reception by the President of the republic at the government house and a military parade, while to-night there was a gala performance at the theater.

COCKRAN VERY ILL; MISS IDE AT SIDE

MISS ANNIE IDE.

Unaccustomed Exercise in High Altitude Brought on Dangerous Cardiac Weakness.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 10.—News comes from Lake Tahoe that Bourke Cockran is seriously ill of heart failure. A short time ago Mr. Cockran left here for Tahoe with a party, one member of which was Miss Annie Ide, the daughter of the former governor-general of the Philippines, to whom he is betrothed. Unaccustomed exercise in the high altitude in which the lake is situated brought on dangerous cardiac weakness, to which Cockran has long been subject.

His physicians fear complications, which may prove dangerous, as he is fifty-two years old and not in good physical condition. Miss Ide remains at the patient's side and nurses him with the greatest care.

CAR STEPS FLEW OFF AND BROKE HIS NECK

Remarkable Accident to Frank Harlow at Augusta Springs.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
 STAUNTON, VA., August 10.—Frank Harlow, the twenty-year-old son of A. M. and Mollie Harlow, of Augusta Springs, was struck and instantly killed yesterday evening by the steps of a coach wrenched from Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train No. 1.

Young Harlow, who had been attending the circus in Staunton and returned on train No. 5, in company with his father and sister, was going from the depot to his home, which is on the line of the railroad, about half a mile west of the depot. As he was trying to get down the bank immediately in front of his home the steps of one of the coaches became detached, and was thrown out with violent force, striking him and breaking his neck.

PENROSE BEGINS FIGHT TO HOLD SENATE SEAT

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
 PHILADELPHIA, PA., August 10.—The contest for the election of a United States Senator in Pennsylvania in 1909 has opened already with great vigor. State Senators are to be elected in all the even numbered districts next November. These men will have a vote for United States Senator to succeed Penrose, whose term will expire March 3, 1909. Already Senator Penrose has disclosed his plans for re-election. Embassadors of the Republican organization leader are active throughout the State in urging candidates for the Senate, who will pledge themselves to vote for Penrose's re-election.

On the other hand, the Van Valkenburg wing of the party is no less active in obtaining candidates friendly to the election of a United States Senator who is declared to be elected by them. This is said to be Thomas B. Wanamaker, although the Van Valkenburg committee has not disclosed the identity of its choice.

There are whispers that E. A. Van Valkenburg himself is an aspirant for the honor. Such is the talk in Harrisburg. About one-third of the twenty-five districts where Senators are to be elected are Democratic, and the Lincoln and Democratic parties are expected to unite in nearly all the districts, in the hope of securing a goodly number of those to be chosen. Deadlocks have occurred in many of the districts between candidates. If these cannot be settled at home, the Republican State Committee will be called upon, under the constitution, to determine who shall be the candidate.

At this point it can be seen at a glance how important it is to Senator Penrose to have William R. Andrews as chairman of the Republican State Committee. In case of a deadlock, the chairman selects the subcommittee to go into the districts, hear the evidence and decide whom the organization desires to be the candidate. With a chairman unfavorable to Penrose, the subcommittee could be packed, and the Senator's friends left in the cold. It is declared that with his re-election before him, Senator Penrose was impelled to make the move he did in the State Convention to retain his faithful follower at the helm.

Throughout the State, from now on until the nominating conventions shall select their preferences for the State Senate, will be witnessed a terrific struggle between the two forces. Lines have been closely drawn in the preliminary contests in a number of senatorial districts, and representatives of either faction are now apparent to the voters. The fight for the State Senate, unlike the rest of the November election, will turn upon one paramount issue—the election of men of the Penrose or Van Valkenburg stamp.

BIG CROWD OUT ON ARCANUM DAY

Thousands Attend and Take Part in the Celebration at Idlewood.

MANY EVENTS THAT AMUSE

The Tub and Potato Races Were Especially Ludicrous—Grand Officers in Attendance.

It was a great crowd—and a nice crowd, too—one truly representative of Richmond's best people, that crowded the grounds of Idlewood yesterday and last night in celebration of Arcanum Day. The climax was not reached until 9 o'clock, when probably twelve thousand people were within the gates.

The best of order and good humor prevailed. The people amused themselves with the various amusements and were entertained by the special Arcanum Day programme.

The tub-race was laughable in the extreme. The tubs tumbled and the tubs overturned again and again. The winner of the first prize was Master Albert Collins, and he will sit in one of Rothe's nice rocking chairs, and Master Ed. Isbell will add a case of fine toilet soap to his toilet for winning second prize.

Potato Race.

The "potato race" was a "circus." Master Peyton Lee Palmer and Miss Estelle Riddell won first prize—school bag and quilt.

The boys' three-legged race was a dandy, and Percy King won and will wear nice sandals.

The men's three-legged race was won by Wilkinson and Chidley—prizes, rocker and picture.

The baseball game was a neat exhibition of the national game. The "West End" and "East End" combinations lined up and four men crossed the rubber for the "West" to three for the "East."

The band played the "Royal Arcanum March," which was heartily applauded. The fireworks were superb and the set piece, "V. A. C. Royal Arcanum," was greatly complimented.

Did Good Work.

Harry Kemp was in his happiest mood. He had worked hard, as had Chairman R. E. Winfree, and they had a right to be gratified at the success of the affair.

Among the grand officers present were Grand Robert W. M. Bickers, of Richmond; Grand Chapman V. T. Dabney, Grand Secretary J. B. Blanks (and Mrs. Blanks), of Petersburg, and there were visitors from Roanoke, Petersburg, Ashland, Norfolk, Fredericksburg and other points.

Deputy Kemp's headquarters were crowded all day, and his face wore a constant smile all well and a yard wide. His good wife was also present and added materially to the enjoyment and comfort of the ladies.

The Grand Regent's wife and daughters, and the Grand Secretary's wife and daughters, were added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening, as did the good wife of Grand Secretary Blanks and stores of the wives and daughters of Richmond Council's officers and members.

The grand officers spoke encouragingly of the status of the order, and it seems that the Arcanum is in a most flourishing condition throughout the State and elsewhere.

It was after 11 o'clock, before the grounds were vacated, and the street cars were taxed to their utmost capacity.

Want Union Station.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

It is desired before this road builds that the two roads provide a union depot for the convenience of the public. A committee was appointed at the meeting last night to take up the matter with the roads will be favorably inclined to the idea.

PEOPLE WERE TERRIFIED BY THREAT OF DIRE CALAMITY

Poured Inquiries in Upon Episcopal Bishop, Who Promptly Denounced "Endless Chain of Prayer" as a Hoax.

(By Associated Press.)
 BOSTON, MASS., August 10.—So much anxiety has been caused to the Right Rev. William Lawrence, Episcopal Bishop of Massachusetts, by the flood of letters which has been pouring in for several months regarding the so-called "endless chain of prayer," which was alleged to have been started by him, that the bishop has found it necessary to issue the following denial that he is connected with the matter: "The endless chain of prayer, said to have been written by Bishop Lawrence, is a hoax. Bishop Lawrence, of Massachusetts, never wrote it and knows nothing about it. It is the work of some demagogic or mischievous person."

The inquiries concerning the endless chain and comments on it which have been received by Bishop Lawrence and by church and secular papers indicate that the fears of many persons have been so worked upon by the mention of a "dire calamity," as the penalty for failing to comply with the conditions of the scheme, that they have not only aided in the spread of the prayer, but have felt great terror lest they might meet with misfortune.

A denial that such a scheme has been started by any church official or dignitary was prominently published in all the Episcopal Church papers as well as in the local secular papers in many cities. The church officials also sent to Episcopal clergymen throughout the country a letter describing the hoax. Despite this, however, there is scarcely a day when Bishop Lawrence does not receive letters containing inquiries concerning it. Such queries have come recently from Florida, Texas, Northern and Western States and points in Canada, while only this week a query regarding it was received by Bishop Lawrence from Paris, France.

The prayer begins with an invocation for divine mercy for mankind and says it was sent by Bishop Lawrence, who recommended it to be sent to nine persons. Misfortune was threatened to whomsoever failed to send it. On the other hand it promises that "who will rewrite this prayer will be delivered from every calamity."

Mrs. C. Emory Smith.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
 PHILADELPHIA, August 10.—Mrs. Charles Emory Smith, wife of the former Pennsylvania General and editor of the Philadelphia Press, died yesterday at Block Island, R. I., of heart disease, after an illness of three weeks. Mrs. Smith went to the watering place about the middle of July, and soon after her arrival there suffered a serious attack of heart trouble, which ended in her death. Mr. Smith went to Block Island when he was first informed of his wife's illness, and stayed with her until the end.

Mrs. Smith, who was Miss Ella Huntley, was married to Mr. E. Smith in 1863, when he was editor of the Albany Journal. She conspicuously shared his public activities during the two years that he was Minister to Russia, and in the four years that she was a member of the Cabinet circle when Mr. Smith was Postmaster-General in President McKinley's official family from 1897 to 1902.

The city home of Mr. and Mrs. Smith was at No. 208 Spruce Street.

The Value of Advertising Space.

"We must speak by the card, or equivocation will undo us," says Hamlet. So says The Times-Dispatch to the News Leader.

The News Leader again, after being so severely rebuked for its misstatement of facts on Thursday, walks in the same crooked path of inaccuracy in stating the amount of advertising printed in the week day issues of The Times-Dispatch for July.

The News Leader came within 1,802 inches of the correct amount. That is doing very well for the News Leader. But the facts are that the advertisers buying space in the city know values, for in July they bought in

The Times-Dispatch display.....12,154 inches.
 The News Leader display.....8,072 inches.
 Real Estate and Financial, The Times-Dispatch.....2,943 inches.
 Real Estate and Financial, the News Leader.....1,728 inches.
 The Times-Dispatch, Classified, 4,480 ads.....2,943 inches.
 The News Leader, Classified, 3,422 ads.....2,224 inches.
 They bought, total amount, in July Times-Dispatch.....21,062 inches.
 They bought, total amount, in July News Leader.....15,287 inches.

It may not be uninteresting to know that in nineteen days of July The Times-Dispatch printed 16,781 inches of advertising, which is more than the News Leader did in the whole month of July.
